CISG 109 F. Fundamentals of eSports Technology Units: 3 Lecture: 3 Laboratory: 0 MSU DE: MSU	Prerequisites: NONE	35	While the instructor does lecture, much of the class time focuses on discussion, group learning, and/or formal/informal student presentations. Evaluation primarily through objective exams. Writing assignments are assessed mostly for concepts and structure.	2027 Fall	New course to correspond to eSports Media, Management, and Technology Certificate. Creation of this course will contribute to pathways that develop technological and project management skills.
ENVS 143 F 147 F. Natural History of the California Coast Units: 2 Lecture: 2 Laboratory: 0 MSU	Prerequisites: NONE	20	This is a field-oriented course. The instructor will lead a group of students, on foot, through various field sites. The instructor will	2027 Fall	In its most recent six-year review, the ENVS department discussed its newly revised major, program map, and past and upcoming personnel changes. 			provide the following types of extensive personal assistance to students: 1) helping them to spot and identify geologic structures and wildlife species; 2) personal help on proper field methods and; 3) use of diverse field equipment such as compasses, hand lenses, topographic maps, and binoculars. In addition, certain field locations constrain class size due to safety factors, and working space.		renewed focus on hands-on field-oriented education. By expanding our field course offerings, we can give students more choice in tailoring their degree to their specific interests and increase the probability that they will be able to complete their degree within two years.
MUS 182 F Instrumentation, Orchestration, and Arranging Units: 3 Lecture: 3 Laboratory: 0 TABLED	Advisory: • MUS 107 F and • MUS 208 F and • MUSA 131 F	25	Most of the time the students are engaged in practicing the skill(s) they are learning and the instructor gives each student individual instruction as the class proceeds.	2027 Fall	New Course. Over a dozen other community colleges offer similar courses. Students have been asking why don't we offer one. Fullerton's proximity to Los Angeles (a global center for commercial music and film scoring) makes instrumentation, orchestration, and arranging an attractive specialty for music students. Proposed for DE Online (Syn) and Hybrid.

MUS 279 F Advanced Symphony Orchestra Units: 1 Lecture: 0 Laboratory: 3 TABLED	Prerequisite: Four semesters of MUS 271 F with a grade of C or better.	50	The Music Department at Fullerton College has worked diligently to develop class sizes that support the unique needs of music instruction. Class sizes have been customized to support the sequential learning of skills related to mastery of musical instruments and the voice. Class sizes also reflect the established definitions of specific performance groups and the related emphasis on ensemble interaction and collaboration.	2027 Fall	Students are unable to repeat Symphony Orchestra (MUS 271 F) after taking the course four times. We have many students who spend more than four semesters at Fullerton College, and who need to develop their skills further before transfer. The department needs a course to provide continuing symphony orchestra skill development.

		productions, and social movements. Students examine how communities generate knowledge, resist oppression, build coalitions, and imagine futures beyond domination. Through critical inquiry, research, cultural analysis, creative expression, and community-engaged learning, students explore how local, national, and global forces interact to produce racialized inequities—and how communities respond with resilience, innovation, and collective action. The program prepares students to become ethical, critically informed, and engaged community members equipped with skills in critical thinking, media and information literacy, intersectional and comparative analysis, community-centered leadership, collaborative problem-solving, and public communication. Students develop the capacity to analyze the past and present while cultivating liberatory visions for social transformation.
